GOP COMMITTEE REVIEWS PROGRESS

During their recent meeting, members of the Republican Town Committee in a recapitulation of recent events could take satisfaction from what had transpired.
Voters quietly resolved, in majority, are seeking out the men and women who are best able to serve them, and are rewarding them with their votes.

Encouraged by this fact, during the months ahead, the Town Committee will bring additional attention to the public of the importance of several offices that on occasion in the past, have been lightly regarded.

A year ago the Town Committee turned the spotlight upon the then approaching, "Annual Town Meeting".

It is there where our 180 elected Town Meeting Members vote on what is to be done and what shall not be done, and vote the tax money accordingly. The response was immediate, and the results satisfied most of the town.

Thus the Town Committee again draws attention to the precinct meetings which precede the Annual Meeting that will soon be held. These meetings are open to all citizens and there, the items in the warrant will be explained to the town meeting members and others assembled.

The Town Committee invites the public to contact the elected members who represent them. The Town Clerk has the complete file of the Town Meeting Members for all precincts. Still another topic of discussion, has been the increase in information, regarding the activities of several of the elected Boards and Committees to the people in town via the press.

This explained Chairman Richard Brindle is a step in the right direction and should be of increased benefit to Agawam, as he forcefully stated "the public needs to know what is going on".

The political calendar was reviewed.

Additional members were added to the Activities Committee and now consists of Donald Ma-toon, Harry Michaelian, Donald Watson Alice Perry, and Vincent Caroleo. Their job will be to plan, schedule, and organize popular affairs and functions for Republicans and their friends in town.

The next meeting is scheduled for Tuesday evening, March 3rd.
Place to be announced.

Health For All

LOOK, MOM, NO BACILLI!

"What I want to know is this:
If TB's an adult disease, why do they want us to have our children tested once a year?"

The speaker was Mrs. Ella
Rogers, a Pennsylvania mother.
She asked her question during a local telephone - interview radio show. The announcer, a parent himself, didn't know the answer.
It's a safe guess that the majority of American parents were in the same boat.

In such a situation, why not seek an answer from the horse's —or, in this case, from the Christmas Seal Association that has fought TB on a national battle-front for 60 years? That's exactly what's been done; and here is the authoritative answer to Mrs.
Rogers given by a spokesman for the National Tuberculosis Association:

"Your question is a sound and timely one. Tuberculin tests are important in childhood because, for one thing, the TB germ can be thoroughly active in young children who have caught the germ from an infected person.
This is what can happen when a TB control program breaks down, and in children up to the age of three, it can result in tuberculosis meningitis, a frequent and rapid killer.

"On the other hand — and particularly in somewhat older children — the germ may remain inactive in the body until many years later may well have been harboring the germ since teenage or pre-teen days. In that case, a tuberculin test, taken at a early age, normally would have revealed the presence of the inactive germ and warned against the possibility of a later breakdown into active disease.

"In other words, the inactive
TB child may be father to the active TB man. Another compelling reason why every child should have a regular periodic tuberculin test."

YMCA Annual Auction 'Attic Treasures' April 25

Every convenience for shoppers from an antiques to attic treasures, from home baked cakes and pies and cookies to fifty surprise gifts for the early browsers will mark the second annual Auction sponsored by Agawam YMCA. Fred Emerson, YMCA president, announced today that the auction has been called, "Attic Treasures" and townspeople are asked to save good usable furniture, bric-a-brac, dishes, jewelry, glassware, books and other items to be put up on bid. The auction will be held Saturday, April 25 at the Agawam Armory.

One of the most interesting features of the auction will be an Antiques Corner under the chairmanship of George LaBombard who is volunteering his services as auctioneer. It is hoped that antiques will be available — to provide for the antique lovers to add to collections. Any person wishing to donate an antique should contact Mr. Emerson or general chairman, Joseph Pisano. Last year it will be remembered that a Spanish corner chair was donated by Dudley Bodurtha and was sold to a Conn. dealer for $325. Mr. Bodurtha found the chair stored in his attic. It is hoped that when attics are being cleaned this spring that articles will be put aside for the auction which will aid youth activities program sponsored by the YMCA. Articles will be picked up by contacting Mr. Pisano of McGrath Terr.

"Ye Old Country Restaurant" another feature of the auction will have a large staff of chefs, and special cooks headed by Chief Chef Nick Zucco. Sandwiches and hot dishes will be available. Families are invited to come and spend the day. A home baked booth will be in charge of Mrs. Marcia Chapman Paine.

Other committee members present at last night's meeting were Joseph Pisano, general chairman, John Chiscola, co-chairman, Ernest Swanson, treasurer, Fred Affleck, personnel chairman and Mrs. Joan Danford, Public relations. Further plans will be announced at a later date.

Grandma's Treatment of Cold Still Good

Since Americans suffer some 500 million colds a year, chances are you will have one or more this winter. The most-often asked question is, what can be done for a cold?

According to the American Medical Association, despite all the research going on to find a cure for the cold, grandma's treatment is still good. Says the AMA: "Most folks know you can't cure it. And yet we still waste a lot of time and money on pills and nostrums and treatments—all in the faint hope that maybe this time something will help."

"Actually, grandma's home therapy is still good. If you get a cold, stay home in bed. Keep warm. Gargle to ease a sore throat. Take aspirin for the discomfort. None of this will cure the cold, but it will make you feel more comfortable while the body's natural defense mechanisms are building up enough steam to overcome the cold virus." Some people get cold "shots" in an effort to prevent the respiratory infection. On these, the AMA says: "From time to time there have been vaccines to protect against colds. To really protect, the vaccine would have to include many different viruses. Some of the viruses that cause colds most likely haven't even been identified. It's unlikely that a vaccine will help much." But, of course, a person should consult his physician on this.

Antihistamine products can make the symptoms of a cold less severe, says the AMA, but they have limitations and problems. For one, they can cause drowsiness, "which could be highly dangerous to the driver of an auto."

The advice from the AMA, then, is to treat a cold as grandma would: stay in bed, keep warm, gargle and take aspirin.

Collins Aboard

U.S.S. Glacier

USS GLACIER (FHTNS) — John C. Collins, engineman fireman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Collins of 117 Leonard St., Agawam, is serving aboard the icebreaker USS Glacier currently deployed in the South Pacific with the forces of Operation Deep Freeze.

Operation Deep Freeze supports the United States Antarctic Research Program under the auspices of the National Science Foundation. Units assigned include personnel from all five armed services as well as personnel from the Royal New Zealand Navy.

Glacier was recently invited by the Australian state of Tasmania to take part in the Royal Hobart Regatta in early February. Events of the regatta will include sailing, rowing and power boat contests.

Hobart is the Glacier's first port of call since early November when she departed Christ Church, New Zealand, for the bottom of the world.

BOUNDARY DISPUTE

(part 3)

By Edith LaFrancis

The record of Roger Moore, who died in Southwick in 1818, shows the many years of controversy and negotiation which passed before the final settlement of the boundary line between Massachusetts and Connecticut.

Roger Moore's home was first considered to be in Westfield, then in Simsbury, Hartford County, Connecticut, then in Granby, then Southwick, in Hampshire and later Hampden County in Massachusetts. Thus he was a citizen of 2 states, voter in 4 towns and resident in 3 counties—and he lived in the same place all his life.

In 1641 the Massachusetts General Court declared that Connecticut was encroaching on the Massachusetts colony by establishing a trading post at what is now Westfield. The area was known as Woronoco and Pynchon had already established a profitable fur trade there. The matter came up again in the legislature in 1647 and 1648 and in 1649 Massachusetts decided to survey the line. When Connecticut failed to send a representative to the running of the line, she was thought to have lost her claim by default. During the 1660's Woronoco was the westernmost outpost of the colony and was governed by a five-man commission from Springfield.

Settlement of the present town of Southwick began in 1734 and in 1770 it was incorporated as a district. In 1774, Connecticut again laid claim to the area and in 1793 both Massachusetts and Connecticut appointed commissions to run the line out to New York State.

This would seem to have settled the matter, but in 1804 we find Massachusetts claiming the part of Southwick extending below the line. The final settlement was the compromise of 1804 as shown on the map.

Massachusetts claimed A and B as part of Southwick. Connecticut claimed A and B as part of Suffield and Granby. In settlement, Connecticut received B and Massachusetts A. This agreement is still in effect and accounts for the indentation in the state boundary at that point.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

Q. I'm in trouble, I guess. I received social security benefits all last year and have now found that I made over $1200. What am I going to do?

A. Get in touch with your nearest social security representative with a record of your total 1963 earnings. This can be your 1963 W-2 forms, if you work for wages, or your Federal tax return for 1963, if you were self-employed. Be prepared to show which months in 1963 you worked for wages of over $100 or worked in your business more than 45 hours. With this information you can be helped to file your Annual Report. This must be done before April 16, 1964.

Q. I was 72 last year. I understand I can make more than $1200 this year without losing any social security. Is that right?

A. That is correct. There is no limitation on earnings for any year in which a person is 72 or past for the entire year. But, if you made more than $1200 last year you should file an annual report by or before April 15, 1964.

Q. I was 72 last year. I have heard that social security no longer cares how much I make—I'll get all my monthly benefits. Is this right?

Yes, if your birthday fell in January. Otherwise you should consult with your local social security representative. Have with you accurate information as to your monthly earnings before your birth-month as well as earnings thereafter. If the total for 1963 was over $1200 an annual report must be filed by or before April 15, 1964.

Q. My company retired me the middle of last year when I reached retirement age. By then I had earned about $3500. I had already filed my claim for social security benefits but haven't drawn any since my earnings were well over $1200. Is there anything I should do now to start my checks coming?

A. Yes indeed. You should file an annual report before April 16, 1964. Not only will this report serve to start your benefits this year but it will permit payment last year for any months that you neither earned wages of over $100 nor spent more than 45 hours in self-employment.

Q. Each year I check my W-2 form against my own figures, and so far, my total for the year has checked out correctly. Should I assume, then, that my social security earnings record is correct?

A. No. Since your earnings are being reported to social security by your employer, the fact that the W-2 figures are correct does not guarantee that the social security record is correct. The Social Security Administration urges each worker to check on his own social security wage record from time to time. Your district office will gladly provide you with a convenient postcard form which you may fill out and mail. In a matter of weeks, you will receive a statement of your earnings as they appear on your social security earnings record. Notify your social security district office promptly if you find that any part of the record is incorrect.

Q. I retired last year and I plan to spend this year visiting my children who are scattered all over the county. What should I do about getting my benefit checks?

A. We suggest that you settle on one or two of the addresses that are most convenient for you, rather than attempt to change your address every month or so. Social security benefit checks can be forwarded by the Post Office Department if a change of address notice has been filed with them. We are always happy to serve our beneficiaries by changing their addresses and in other ways, but as we have several million such changes in a year we are interested in keeping these things to a minimum.

Smokers' Clinic Information

The Agawam Health Department released a list of the most asked questions since the release of the Surgeon General's report. These questions and others will be answered in greater scope at the Agawam Smokers Clinics. For more information call the Agawam Health Department at 36 Main St., ST 1-0400.

1. Q. What does smoking actually do to me?

A. Cigarettes have very definite effects such as, shortness of breath, pain or discomfort in the chest, coughing, sore throat, hoarseness, diarrhea, stomach-ache, loss of appetite, headache, dizziness, insomnia, and so on.

2. Q. Does smoking actually cause disease?

A. Yes, it causes cancer and is closely associated with other diseases such as ulcers, heart disease, cirrhosis of the liver, bronchitis, pulmonary emphysema and many others.

3. Q. Does anyone know, really, why we smoke?

A. The overwhelming evidence points to the conclusion that smoking is psychologically and socially determined. This does not rule out physiological or organic factors nor the existence of predisposing constitutional or hereditary factors.

4. Q. How much money will I save in a year if I quit smoking?

A. If you smoke one pack a day you will save $110.00 in one year.

5. Q. I've known people who have smoked for 30 years and it never hurt them. What about that?

A. Smoking hurts all people to some degree. It could be only a lessened well being, but it could also be death.

6. Q. How many people die each year because of smoking?

A. As many people as die due to auto accidents, some 40,000 per year. It is estimated that one million of our present children will die before reaching the age of 70 because of smoking.

7. Q. Will I live longer if I don't smoke?

A. Yes, your life expectancy will be approximately 4 years longer.

8. Q. Is there really a difference in the death rate between smokers and non-smokers?

A. Yes, the death rate per thousand, from all causes, is 68 percent higher for smokers.

9. Q. How much good will it do me to stop smoking?

A. If you stop smoking you will increase your life expectancy. This is proportional to the length of time you have stopped smoking, plus your general well-being will increase.

10. Q. Will cutting down to half my usual number of cigarettes be enough?

A. No, the number of cigarettes smoked daily and the death rates are as follows:

1-9 cigarettes — 57% higher death rate than non-smokers.

10-19 cigarettes — 91% higher death rate than non-smokers.

20-39 cigarettes — 203% higher death rate than non-smokers.

Over 40 cigarettes — 218% higher death rate than non-smokers.

11. Q. If I quit smoking will I gain weight?

A. The tendency is to gain weight. However, if you practice good eating habits and watch what you eat, this gain should be insignificant.

12. Q. What is the government doing about smoking?

A. They are taking action on this now. Research committees are being formulated now. New legislation is expected in the near future and an education program is expected.

13. Q. If I give up smoking, what side effects will I experience?

A. It varies with the individual. Some people experience very little discomfort.

14. Q. What does the recent report on smoking mean to me as an average smoker?

A. It proves that the long list of accusations against smoking are true. It provides sufficient information for the average person to make up his own mind to quit smoking. Further, it should stimulate every parent to action to prevent this needless loss of life and debilitating effects upon our children.

15. Q. What is the best way to quit smoking?

A. There is no best way. There are many good ways. There are aids, consultations and clinics. One way is to set a date to quit. Tell everyone about and when that day arrives, show some will power and quit. All people need an honest desire to quit.

CLOTHES UPKEEP

You won't have a pressing need to iron clothes if you hang them up as soon as you take them off. Dryclean garments often to prolong their life; Valclene, used in many coin-operated drycleaning centers, does the job in 14-16 minutes.

Abuse is often of service.

At their last meeting the Agawam Lions Club had as their guests the Southwick Club in a joint meeting, with twenty-five over-the-mountain members in attendance. Entertainment was furnished by Paul Monson with his lecture on India, which is by far his best travelogue. He used three screens and showed single pictures and also had the machine synchronized so that at times the screens showed one panoramic picture. It was indeed a very enjoyable and interesting evening.

Very good to see Charlie Calabrese back after a stay in the hospital.

The Club received a post card from Jack Mendes, who is on a vacation in Portugal.

Bob Schilling and his family depart for Miami on the 13th for a stay at the Fountainebleau for a few weeks.

The Keystone Eye Testing Machine recently donated to the Senior High School is being used right now in testing the upper three classes at the school. School Nurse Mary O'Brien is high in its praise, and Principal Fred Dacey is very thankful to the Club.

So good to hear that Tom Cascio and Vin Gallerani are back from the hospital and feeling fine.

District Governor Richard Menzel and his suite make their official visitation to the Club on Wednesday, February 19th, our next meeting night. All members are asked to attend.

As an hors d'oeuvre or appetizer or to complete a relish tray, celery curls or hearts sprinkled with salt and eaten out of hand make crisp additions. Try celery in casseroles, sauces and stuffings—use stalks and leaves to suit your taste for flavor.

Civil Defense Annual Report

Agawam Civil Defense Director, Arthur Zavarella releases the Civil Defense annual report for 1963 as: The year just concluded was marked by several significant developments in the National civil defense policy which had state and local repercussions. The fallout shelter program was further implemented by Defense Secretary McNamara, and in addition to the 959 PF4 spaces surveyed last year, the Army Engineers approved 280 PF3 spaces and 1925 PF2 spaces in Agawam, at the Town Hall, the Senior High School, Airport Grandstand, Danahy School, Elm St. Woolen Mill, and Hood's Milk plant. This makes a total of 3164 spaces in eight locations for the public shelter of our residents against radioactive fallout. A radiation monitoring kit and subsistence supplies are being furnished without charge by Federal Civil Defense for each of the certified shelters, and the current local program of greatest interest is to obtain and install the equipment and supplies, and to train an adequate number of volunteers so that efficient use can be made of all available facilities in case of emergency.

With our School System property so prominently involved in the shelter projects, and the need for greatly stepped-up training activities at the local level, it was inevitable that the state educational organization would become more active in the total Civil Defense program. To this end, the Mass. Dept. of Education has arranged for instructor-level courses throughout the state, including University of Massachusetts, in which Agawam School personnel have been invited to enroll. Superintendent of Schools James Clark and Principal James Loomis at Granger have been most helpful in these endeavors.

On November 16th, Agawam was represented at the dedication of the just completed two million dollar Mass. C. D. Emergency Operation Center located in Framingham on the grounds of the State Police Headquarters. Asst. Defense Secy. Stuart L. Pittman represented Federal Government at the exercises and emphasized the increasingly important role of Civil Defense at all levels, in the total military defense and retaliatory powers of the nation.

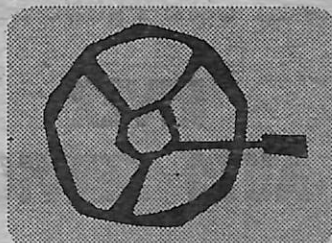

The local Director would be remiss at this point if he did not mention the tremendous contribution of the late President Kennedy to the Civil Defense progress, posture, and stability in recent years. His intense dedication to the public interest, and establishment of the Agency in Washington as an integral and vital part of the Military establishment will serve as an inspiration to the thousands of voluntary Civil Defense workers for years to come.

Celery tops may be chopped fine and put on a meat or fish loaf. Some cooks like to lay a spray of celery leaves on top of a roast while it is cooking. Tops may be kept for later use by washing them, then drying and putting them into a bag. Try chopping celery to cook with other fresh vegetables—to name a few, carrots, tomatoes, snap beans, peas and green peppers. It is also delicious in a small amount of melted butter with fresh mushrooms.

THE FISHING SUBSIDY

Every time we buy an item of fishing tackle... a rod, a lure, a line... we contribute a few cents toward better fishing.

A federal excise tax on fishing equipment manufactured in the United States is providing funds that have materially created more fishing opportunities for all of us.

This reminder is from the fishing experts at Mercury outboards, who point out the significance of Dingell-Johnson funds that are being used to excellent advantage in most states.

Fishing waters are often taken for granted by anglers. But a lot of behind-the-scenes developments, financing and hard work are necessary to provide new areas at a rate that keeps pace with the growing number of fishermen.

D-J funds play a prominent role in these developments. Here, in brief, is how they work:

Each state is entitled to a pro-rated share depending upon its number of licensed fishermen and its area in square miles. Then it must propose a project compatible with the purpose of the grant. Further, the state must match each three dollars of D-J money with one dollar of its own.

The projects which have been approved are many and vary considerably, ranging from scientific investigation to land acquisition.

The most tangible are those which have resulted in the development of new fishing areas and public access points to good fishing streams and lakes.

Taxes are often a source of irritation, justifiably or not, but here is one case where the results can be seen.

And, after all, what's more important than fishin'?

More than a million earthquakes shake our planet each year and not one of them can be predicted.

Indoor Greenery

Gardening need not be exclusively an activity for the great outdoors. Homeowners, as well as the apartment dwellers, can enjoy gardening, indoors, particularly in cooler weather.

Growing house plants can be a very satisfying indoor gardening experience, if you bear in mind a few simple precautions. Terra cotta pots are usually best for your plants. They're porous and allow the soil to absorb air. To prevent water-logging and rotting of roots, make sure the pots have holes in the bottom and are set in saucers for proper drainage. Most people tend to over water house plants. Remember, the soil should be kept moist, but not wet. Generally, watering twice a week will be enough.

If your plants begin yellowing between the leaf veins they are very likely suffering from iron deficiency or anemia. Prompt attention is needed to cure this anemia.

A simple, effective and economical method is now available through the latest research. One-quarter of a teaspoon of Geigy Sequestrene 330 Fe iron chelate per quart of water, applied in a normal watering, is the recommended prescription.

As plants grow, their root system usually grows with them. Thus, occasionally it is necessary to repot house plants. If you desire help, florists will do it for you at a small charge. Now is the time to look ahead and revitalize house plants for good growth during spring and summer.

More Americans died in highway accidents in the United States during the past 60 years than were killed in all American wars.

by Virginia Catchepaugh

Civil Defense Meeting

On February 3rd, Dr. W. H. Lenville, on an invitation from the Unit Chairman Constance LaMountain, gave a talk to Legion and Unit members on Civil Defense. He stressed that preparation beforehand was important, as a 15-minute warning might be all citizens might have. Evacuation would not be feasible in such a short period, so that a basement shelter should be in readiness. Food and water for 7 days, and a transistor radio for Conelrad bulletins is essential. The local Civil Defense office has bulletins on other preparations.

Dr. Lenville demonstrated a geiger counter, and indicated there was further need for trained personnel to man the radiological equipment in the local area. A re-

At Your ServiceDAVID C. GALLANO
Director of Veterans Services

Almost 31,000 Massachusetts veterans who hold GI life insurance policies are using their regular annual dividends to guard against loss of their insurance, the Veterans Administration said today.

The VA has paid nearly $7,223,000 in dividends for 1964 to more than 144,000 Massachusetts veterans and servicemen who hold participating GI insurance.

GI policyholders may arrange to leave future dividends with the VA at interest as a credit to meet monthly premiums should the policyholders fail to pay them before the end of the 31-day grace period.

These dividends are subject to withdrawal by the policyholder on request.

A policyholder who wishes to join those veterans who leave their dividends on deposit with VA for this purpose should write to the VA office which serves his policy, making sure to include his insurance number.

Many widows and orphans of World War II and Korean Conflict veterans who were not disabled are apparently unaware that under certain conditions they are eligible for Veterans Administration pensions.

Prior to July 1, 1960, widows and children of WW II or Korean servicemen were entitled to pensions only if the deceased veteran had a service-connected disability at the time of his death.

Beginning on that date, Congress provided pensions for the widows and orphans of these veterans on an equal basis with the pensions granted to World War I veterans' widows and orphans. It is no longer necessary for the veteran to have had a service-connected disability.

The pensions range from $25 to $60 monthly for widows. For each child, $15 a month is added.

This benefit may be payable to a veteran's child or children even though the widow is not entitled to the pension because she remarried or her income or net worth exceeds certain limits. The pension for one child (when widow is ineligible) is $35.00, plus $15.00 for each additional child.

The income limit is $1,800 yearly for a widow and $3,000 annually for a widow with a child or children. The income limit for children is $1,800 yearly, exclusive of child's own earnings.

The pension is paid if the deceased veteran was discharged under conditions other than dishonorable and had 90 or more days of service or was discharged sooner for a service-connected disability.
